

TRAVELLER'S TALES

HANNAH SPEARRITT

THE STAR ON HER JET-SETTING TEENS AND SKIING WITH HER DOG...

What's been your most memorable holiday?

Skiing in Chamonix, France, when I was 15 or 16. It was my first holiday without my parents and it was awesome – it's such a pretty, homely town. I was snowboarding then, but I wish I'd skied as I'm more inclined to keep my feet facing forward as opposed to the side, so there were a few accidents!

Who's your favourite holiday companion?

Stanley, my dog. If he could come, I'd teach him to ski or snowboard with me!

Where's the best place you've ever been for work?

Miami [for 5 Club 7 show Miami 7]. I was only 16, and for each series we were there for three months. There was no boozing because the age limit was 21, so we'd go round each other's apartments and hang out after we finished work. Filming on South Beach and cruising along in the red Chevy was brilliant.

You're currently starring in Casualty – have you ever had a hospital drama on holiday?

I haven't, the worst thing I did on holiday was scrape my big toe on a rock when I was seven! Andrew [Lee Potts, Hannah's former fiancé] will kill me for saying this, but when we went to Koh Samui he got really bad food poisoning. It was so bad, he just wasn't getting better, so I went to speak to reception and this tiny ambulance came to pick him up and take him to the hospital, which was literally 100 yards up the road!

Where are you off to next?

I'd love to go to Indonesia or Cambodia but, with acting, you never know where your next job is coming from. After Casualty, I'll be going back to auditioning, so it's pretty difficult to plan things like that in advance.

'CASUALTY' IS ON BBC ONE ON SATURDAY NIGHTS.
