

Kim has Girl power

★ IT'S five years since Girls Aloud's Kimberley Walsh released her one and only solo album – but another could finally be on the way.

Kimberley kicks off a week-long London residency tomorrow with songs from her fave musicals and a few Girls Aloud numbers.

And despite being “terrified” about going it alone again it's got her creative juices flowing.

Kimberley said: “I'm a mum of two young kids so can't dedicate the time to another West End show or album right now but I wanted to dip my toe back in.

★ “I would love to do more musicals and I'm positive another album will come when the time is right.”

Kimberley is currently starring in the second series of Channel 4's Ackley Bridge.

She added: “It has an amazing cast and I would love to go back.” Asked about her dream role, she said: “A musical film like The Greatest Showman or La La Land.”

Kimberley performs at Crazy Coqs at Brasserie Zédel for five nights this week.
