We saw Ian at a comedy club in London and decided to book him for our annual dinner in Dudley. He was so good, we booked him for another show in London and he was great there as well.

Ian recently performed at my daughter's 21st in a marquee. I was a little apprehensive as we had no warm up act and around 50 boisterous twenty one year olds, twenty forty somethings and a few over eighties. However, Ian managed to capture every one of them and his spontaneous banter with the audience was hilarious. I have been to see Ian a number of times and what I like about him is that his material changes every time and is very topical
