

Scrum of the other, Jorgie?

Loves match... couple yesterday

SCUMTIOUS Jorgie Porter shows the winning lines that helped her form a union with rugby hook Luther Barrett. The 27-year-old Redlands star, who bared her bod in the Fm A Celeb shower, right, stepped out with the England centre yesterday. Her romance with Luther, 26, emerged as she was in the TV jungle. It's nice to see them team up again. ● All good readers and online at guardian.co.uk on 12/18/15

Luther... in England action

Pictures: KATIE VICE/LIPSTICK SYNDICATION

EXCLUSIVE

DON'T COME BAKE

TV Mary's US flop is facing the chop

GREAT British Bake Off star Mary Berry is facing the chop in the US after her American TV show fell flat with viewers.

Just over three million saw the latest episode of The Great Holiday Baking Show, more than 14m million fewer than this year's CBBO final. Some 200,000 viewers - one in six - deserted the ABC show last week. Scores at the US channel said things look grim for Mary, 80.

One said: "This show is sinking in front of our eyes, and that is not what ABC expects to happen. To lose one in six viewers in one week is a disaster."

"Had the audience stuck at the four million mark, that wouldn't have been so terrible, but the figures have just kept falling."

"You can't say ABC really committed, with only four episodes made. Once these results, they aren't likely to go for a second series."

It's a shame, as everything Mary touched in the UK turns to gold. Her last show, The Great British Bake Off, was high for the

By LAURA ARMSTRONG
Associate Head of TV

US show after the success of CBBO.

But, first, gave last month's final episode mixed reviews, with many calling it a "cheap knock-off" of the BBC version.

ABC chief thought it a moderate success at first, with many, like aged 35-44, a crucial category for advertisers. Then audience began falling.

The source added: "The hit was hard to bank. It was not seen as a problem." A spokeswoman for Mary insisted ABC were "very happy".

laura.armstrong@bbc.com

ZAYN'S EX IS GETTING PERRIE COSY WITH NEW FELLA biarre

PAGES 24 & 25