

THE INSIDE STORY

TENDERS ON THE SOUTH BANK TALENT GATHERS AT AGENCY PARTY

Other actors invited to the National Theatre's Deck bar in London included former EastEnders stars Louisa Lytton and Sid Owen.

Sparking speculation of a role on the BBC1 soap, former S Club 7 star Rachel was seen chatting to Samantha, who plays Rommie Mitchell.

"There's been talks about EastEnders in the past, which would be really fun to do a cameo role in," Rachel has said. "EastEnders is my local. It's around the corner so it would be perfect."

Names including Emma Barton, Rita Samantha Womack, Rachel Stevens Phillips (above, from left, with talent Nathan Shalit) made the most of the sun at glamorous rooftop music and West End stars were invited to a birthday party of talent agency Cole which is part of Jonathan's Roar up as was Pixie Lott.

Above: Pixie Lott and George Shelley. Right: Emma Barton, Rita Simons, Professor Jonathan Shalit OBE and Samantha Womack

Above: Louisa Lytton and Sid Owen. Above left: Rachel Stevens

Left: Suzanne Shaw. Below: Host of the party Cole Kitchenn MD Stuart Piper and Brooke Kinsella MBE

ROARING SUCCESS

WHAT: Tenth anniversary party of Cole Kitchenn, part of the ROAR Group.

WHERE: National Theatre Deck, London.

WHEN: Thursday May 5.

WHO: Pixie Lott joined soap stars including Samantha Womack, Rita Simons, Suzanne Shaw, and singers George Shelley and former S Clubber Rachel Stevens.

LOWDOWN: Theatre, TV and singing stars came together to celebrate with Professor Jonathan Shalit OBE and their agents.