ON THE BIG SCREEN

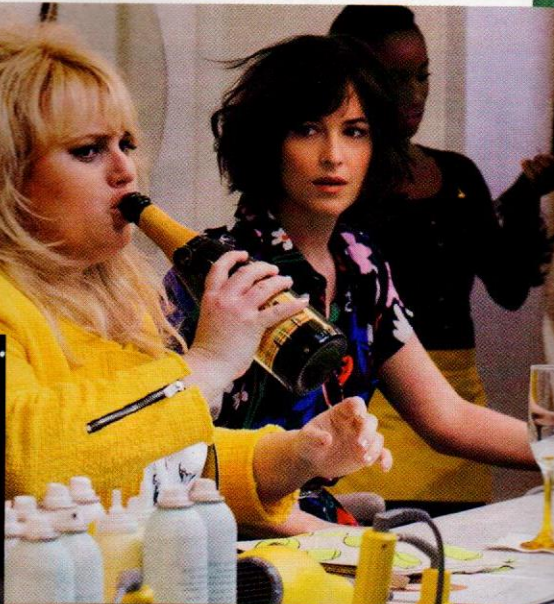

Zoolander II 🤔 📷 🗨️

Ben Stiller's hilariously dim modelling sensation is out of retirement. When a string of stars are found dead, it's up to Zoolander and his model pal Hansel (Owen Wilson) to save the day. The long-awaited sequel sees baddie Mugatu (Will Ferrell) return, plus cameos from Penélope Cruz and Benedict Cumberbatch. Out 12 Feb.

Trumbo 🎬 🖋️ 🇺🇸

Bryan Cranston and Helen Mirren star in this slick biopic about controversial screenwriter Dalton Trumbo. As one of the 'Hollywood Ten', he was blacklisted after refusing to testify to the United States Congress about alleged Communist propaganda in Hollywood films. Out 5 Feb.

Freeheld 🚔 👩🏳️🌈 💔

After Oscar success for Still Alice, Julianne Moore is back with another hard-hitting role as lesbian cop Laurel Hester. A true story, Hester fought for the right to leave her pension benefits to her domestic partner, played by Ellen Page. Steve Carell comesos as a gay marriage campaigner in this poignant movie, which is sure to move you to tears. Out 19 Feb.

How to Be Single 🍷 🍹

In the complicated world of Tinder, emojis and conscious uncoupling, fiercely independent party girl Robin (Rebel Wilson) is set the task of acclimatising out-of-touch Alice (Dakota Johnson) to single life. It's one-night stands and tequilas at dawn in this hilarious rom-com that might just be the new Bridesmaids. Out 19 Feb.
