

London

diary@standard.co.uk

Marilyn is still on the mind

PIXIE Lott, pictured right with her boyfriend Oliver Cheshire, was at Wimbledon yesterday, between nightly performances as Holly Golightly in Breakfast at Tiffany's.

Golightly was immortalised in film by Audrey Hepburn but Lott is more of a fan of Marilyn Monroe, Truman Capote's original choice for the part. "She's got so many secrets that we don't know about," she said recently. "I feel like back in those days the stars weren't as accessible, there wasn't Instagram or Twitter: you wouldn't know how they looked when they were making their tea in the morning."

Also enjoying the tennis was actress Sienna Miller, inset.

