

■ FORMER Britain's Got Talent winners Collabro expected to be axed by Simon Cowell's record label despite their first two albums successfully charting at No.1 and No.2.

Collabro fans were shocked, but band member Jamie Lambert said: "To be honest we expected it. Syco don't keep acts on for very long unless you are One Direction or Little Mix."

"You're lucky if you make it to album number two, which we did."

The newly reduced foursome scored their third consecutive Top

10 album on Friday when Home entered the charts at No.7.

And their future looks bright with or without Simon as they have just released dates for their third headline tour.

Matt Pagan added: "We now have full control in the UK and still have our international recording deals with Sony so we have the best of both worlds."

"We will soon be heading to the US for our biggest tour their yet."

