Collabro: 'The Royal Albert Hall will be emotional'

The Britain's Got Talent winners are currently on a UK tour...

TWO lucky new! readers are going to watch them on Saturday.

Collabro have been on a whirlwind journey since they won ITV's Britain's Got Talent and a whopping £250,000 back in 2014 and were signed by Simon Cowell's label Syco - and now they're currently halfway through a UK tour.

Michael Augar - one of the five boys that make up Collabro - exclusively told new! that they have played to over 30,000 people so far, including venues such as and get standing ovations at nearly every performance.

Two lucky new! readers will be watching Collabro perform their biggest hits at the Royal Albert Hall on Saturday, and he revealed it's the venue that is closest to their hearts.

"We're all really looking forward to it. It's the only date on the tour that all our families are going to be at as they are from all over the country," Michael said. "It's going to be really emotional."

They released their debut album 'Stars' which smashed in to the No.1 spot beating Ed Sheeran in the process and at the time being the fastest selling album for a debut act.

In June 2015 their second album 'Act Two' was released, charting at No.2 beaten only by Florence & The Machine.

In just one year the band have gone from being completely unknown to selling over 300,000 albums, making them platinum album recording artists! They've even performed at Simon Cowell's private birthday party!

You can still catch Collabro at the following venues:
