

Strike a pose . . . from left, Pixie Lott, who will play Holly Golightly in Breakfast at Tiffany's on stage from March. TV actress Kelly Brook flashes her knickers. And Gillian Anderson, who played Blanche in A Streetcar Named Desire last year

By ED DYSON

GORGEOUS Salma Hayek braves the chill last night at a theatre bash — and shows why she's luvvied the world over.

The Mexican actress, 49, chose a plunging gown for the London Theatre Awards at the Old Vic in Waterloo.

Big winners included Nicole Kidman, 48, right, who took Best Actress for her role in Photograph 51.

Among the stars who turned out were Pixie Lott, Kelly Brook, Gillian Anderson and Kate Beckinsale, far right.