WILL SHARP NOTES

SHARP NOTES

As the fresh face of 4Music, it's crucial for WILL BEST to look sharp on-screen, but his eye for style is apparent off-screen, too

ON MY WAIST

My Holes Explorer is the only watch I wear, ever. I have the older model (after 2010, they increased the size of the face) and for me it's the perfect watch. It's just rugged enough to be worn with even the most casual outfit, but smart enough to wear with the most formal. Prior to having this, I managed to have an impressive array of watches, but I'm confident this won't suffer the same fate, as I basically never take it off, there's no need.

ON MY HAND

The only gadget I take with me everywhere (apart from my phone, but that's an obvious one - it's not worth mentioning) is my Kindle. I have a terrible habit of always having several books on the go at once, and the Kindle means I always have all of them with me, without looking too much like a student.

ON MY BAG

After seeing their casual show in London Collections Men (Fashion Week for men), I'm now a big fan of Agi & Sam. They struck a great balance of interesting tailoring and muted colours but with some real flair. I need to get some of their trousers.

ON MY SIGNS

Last year, after a holiday which involved lots of riding across down jungle paths to beaches,

Agi & Sam strike a great balance of interesting tailoring and muted colours with flair. I need some of their trousers

I decided to increase that feeling of freedom in London by buying a Vespa. Despite the lack of jungle paths and beaches I absolutely love it, but about two weeks after getting it I realised what I'd love even more is either a Harley Davidson 48 or a custom-built café racer.

ON MY WARDROBE

Cue la without doubts my go-to clothing brand - their garments are distinctive but simple, and I'm almost always wearing at least one item by them, whether I'm at a formal event or just down the pub with some mates.

ON MY TRAVELS

I always travel super light when I go on holiday. Ideally I'd only take my Kindle, a pair of old, faded shorts, a similarly faded casual shirt, and one of each of the miniature bottles from the airport pharmacy. Because really, who doesn't love a miniature?

ON MY AGENDA

Going back to the States. I've only been once, and it absolutely blew my mind. I had no expectation of it other than perhaps it might be a dry bit boring, but I loved it. In fact, writing this has inspired me - I'm going to book tickets right bloody now.

ON MY DREAMS

If I had all the money in the world, I'd probably spend it on ways to undermine the Donald Trump's presidential campaign. It started as a joke, but if he was to win it may well be one of the least funny things to happen, ever.

ON MY PAST

When I was a student I had a ridiculous sky blue and gold Nike windbreaker which I loved. I left it on a line after a night out, and always wonder whether I'd still wear it now, or whether it would only be for fancy dress.

ON MY DOCKET LIST

Depressingly, my to-do list mainly consists of work projects that I'll never get round to completing. I want to write a novel, a drama feature film, a comedy series and a book of children's poetry. So far I've never really written anything, and what I have has been pretty rubbish. But hey-hey, a man can dream. ■ Will also presents on Tuesday Live on 4Music from Monday-Thursday 8pm-9pm.
